RUSSIA AND FRANCE

The Czar's Army Toasted at a Military Banquet in Paris.

An Important Speech Made by Emperor William at Breslau.

State Coercion Not the Right Way to Oppose Social Democracy—Turkish Atrocities in Armenia—A Duel Near Paris—Boulanger Revolutions—Workers' Suffrage Congress at Brussels—Canada and the McKinley Bill—Industrial Legislation in Italy—The Irish Land Purchase Bill—End of the Ticino Revolution—Germany's Slavery Proclamation—Argentine Affairs—Foreign News.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—Gen. Ferron, Commander of the Eighteenth Army corps, gave a banquet last night to the foreign officers who attended the recent maneuvers of the French army. Gen. Ferron gave a toast to Capt. Kaboloff of the Russian army, who, he said, represented an incomparable army, which was able to dispose of the armed coalition which was threatening Europe. If one campaign did not suffice to effect this Russia would not hesitate to have recourse to several and would be victorious in the end. Gen. Ferron asked the company to drink to the sister army of Russia. In reply to the toast Capt. Kaboloff dilated upon the feeling of affection with which the Russian army regarded the army of France. Upon the conclusion of his remarks he, according to the Russian custom, shattered his glass upon the floor.

Irish Land Purchase Bill.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—Mr. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, is anxious to see that Mr. Parnell at his latest word about the Irish land purchase bill, and has given directions for the most exacting examination of his suggestion. It is not at all probable that the bill will be introduced in November, probably in the form of last session, and at present it is indeed an open question whether its operation may not be made in some way connected with the reform of local government in Ireland in the manner which Lord Salisbury's administration will certainly propose before the dissolution of Parliament. But if this is done, it must be consonant with the intention of the Government that in any case the Irish land purchase bills shall be passed next session. While there is no real probability that their Irish local government bill will be passed, in any case the provisions of the Irish land purchase bill will be made dependent.

The Liberal party on assuming power will propose legislation to that effect in connection with the scheme of home rule. But by statesmen of both parties it has been thought that from the circumstances of last session the Irish land purchase bill was never considered by the country, and that formidable and unexpected opposition may very probably arise when this allocation of $28,000 is the most prominent matter for political discussion.

Boulanger Revolutions.

PARIS, Sept. 15.—The French continue to pursue Boulanger's policies. The latest news is to the effect that Boulanger was bound in honor to overthrow the Republic, but that the parties disagreed as to who should be placed in power. Dillon told the trustees of the D'Uzes fund that he would be the first to shoot Boulanger if he broke his word. The Comte de Paris' organ, Le Correspondant National, admits that the Royalists subdivide the Boulangerists. Boulanger's organ, Le Peuple, referring to the assertion of the Duchesse D'Uzes, that she has a letter compromising Boulanger and Royalists, hints that Boulanger has letters proving that the Duchess threw away her money because she loved him. In an interview published in the Sheila Boulanger denies that he bargained to upset the Republic; declares that he never handled the money, which was Dillon's affair, and says that he has been deceived and made use of by everybody. It is stated that the Duchess is writing a novel, based on these intrigues. The Duchess has written to M. Rochefort, that she paid nothing to the Transcendent.

Argentine Affairs.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 15.—Senor Toso, President of the Provincial Mortgage Bank, is about to start for Europe to arrange for the conversion of the cedulas. The government is sending heavy remittances to London.

Locked-Out Deck Laborers.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The lock-out instituted by the dock companies at Southampton against the laborers in their employ began this morning. Work at the docks is entirely suspended.

Foreign News in Brief.

Mr. Kornblum has gone to Dublin to make a personal survey of the agricultural situation and to confer with Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien prior to their departure for America.

The London Standard's correspondent at Rome confirms the reports that the alliance between Germany, Austria and Italy has been reformed.

Richard Howell, the champion bicyclist, has been committed for trial at Leicester for a felonious assault committed at his hotel lodgings.

The New Zealand House of Representatives has approved the renewal for one year of the contract for carrying the mail between New Zealand and San Francisco.

Baron Weissmann will start on his return to Africa on Oct. 15. Dr. Peters will be appointed German Consul at Zanzibar or will enter the German Foreign Office.

The Chinese Government has commenced the construction of a railway from Kalgan to Guihwa, with the aid of British capital and British engineers.

LABOR IN BERTHES UNITED.

The organizations are more compact, a closer union and better business is being transacted and organizations are more numerous than ever before.

I cannot but regret the folly of the representatives of labor organizations and virtually the same men, so many who are not necessarily stronger on outside than on inside lines.

These men have been made to believe that the organizations which are bringing about these results, on fail to see in passing events the works of men instead of the results of laws as the result of the great power of the nature. These men refuse to meet the representatives of labor organizations and vir-

STOPPED RAILWAY TRAFFIC.

Destructive Fires Along the Northern Pacific in Washington.

ELLENBURG, Wash., Sept. 15.—Forest fires have been raging in the mountains along the line of the Northern Pacific since last Thursday. QUAY's dignified silence has become a humiliating confession of guilt.

The lesson of to-day is a lesson to the Treasury to confine itself to its constitutional duties.

THE Eighth District idea is that each committeeman should hold a little primary of his own.

THE third week of the Exposition opens with a boom, and on the crest of the boom is the Post-Dispatch EXPOSITION ECHOES.

If the country escapes a grave financial crisis it will be no fault of that magnificent mismanagement which characterizes the paternal Treasury Department.

THERE is no lack of splendid material for Congress in the Ninth District, but men who are fit to go to Congress are not the men who would submit the questions of their fitness to a packed and venal committee.

WHEN respectable Senators are compelled to sit still and listen to a eulogy on SAMUEL J. RANDALL from the dismasted mouth of MATTHEW STANLEY QUAY it is time to ask whether these routine eulogies might not be profitably abandoned.

THERE is little prospect of the House accepting any Senate modifications of the McKinley tariff bill. The Senate will have to surrender to the Reed-McKinley terms on tariff, and the Republican organs which have been denouncing the McKinley measure as a blunder will have to eat crow or bolt.

THE situation Ireland was presented fully in yesterday's SUNDAY Post-DISPATCH. It was the first accurate view of the condition of the people in the blighted districts there, who are confronted with a prospect of great suffering if not of actual starvation unless vigorous means be taken to relieve them.

A FINANCIAL panic this fall would make Republicanism as represented in Washington an unpleasant reminiscence. Democrats and Republicans alike, however, join in the hope that the country will be spared this misfortune, and while the money situation is not bright serious difficulty will probably be averted.

TO TERMINATE what promised to become an interminable site wrangle the Chicago World's Fair directors jumped out of the frying-pan into the lake, where new tribulations forced them to jump back into the frying-pan again. There they sizzled until signs of impatience in Congress forced them back into the cooling waters of the lake front again, where they hoped to find rest with the consent of the various litigants, the Illinois Central, the City Government, the State Government and the United States Fair Commissioners with strenuous objections to any dual arrangement which will take any attractive features of the Exposition away from the rest of the show, and it now seems that poor old Chicago is as far as ever from the end of her troubles with her prize elephant.

THE POST-DISPATCH presents to-day for the first time in this city a view of the design for the Grant Monument at River-side Park chosen by the Executive Committee of the Grant Monument Association of New York City. The design was submitted by Architect JOHN H. DUNCAN of New York, and is one of five designs requested by the committee from an equal number of selected architects. The mausoleum will be 100 feet high from the base line and will cover a space of 100 feet square. Its estimated cost when completed is $300,000, but the main part, having the appearance of completeness, may be built for about $150,000, the sum now in the association's treasury, and the other parts may be added as funds for the purpose are obtained. The architecture of the mausoleum will be a combination of Doric, Ionic and Roman styles. An equestrian statue of Gen. Grant and statues of the Major-Generals under him, with historic and allegoric figures, will adorn the structure. It will be a superb monument for the great soldier.

TIDAL WAVES IN POLITICS.

Every day the Democratic organs tell us stories about dissensions in the Republican camp and quote from some Democratic Congressman the prediction that this will be "a Democratic year," and that a tidal wave is coming to float a big Democratic majority in the next House. Consequently the Democrats are everywhere sitting inert, waiting for the tidal wave to do their work for them, and where they can the bosses are already discounting the value of this wave and putting a big cash premium on Democratic nominations.

On the other side the Republicans are scared and working like beavers. They issued an emergency proclamation, reinforced Kittery Navy Yard, sent relays of their best speakers to Maine, supplied their "blocks-of-five" committees in that State with lots of "fat," and not only rolled up an astonishing "off year" vote, but doubled Speaker REED's majority, while the Democrats were engaged in a "still hunt" for the tidal wave their signal service at Washington had promised them. Consul-General NEW is coming home from London on leave of absence to put DUDLEY at work for the next six weeks on the Republican party's Indiana fences, while Chairman BRUCE and Chairman FLOWER are putting the Indiana Democrats asleep with tidal wave predictions.

Here in St. Louis the Republicans are surpassing all their former efforts in registration work, and will be prepared to keep the registration officers busy, while the Democratic Committees are not only doing nothing towards the registration of Democratic voters, but are actually doing everything in their power to disgust and discourage the Democratic voters who might otherwise see to the registration of their own names.

Tidal wave expectations run very high indeed when they encourage a local boss of the nominating machinery to tell the party voters openly that they must either take JIM BUTLER as their nominee for Congress, or send one of a list of specified citizens with lots of "boddy" to negotiate with Jim's father for the honor. Expectations that operate thus, paralyzing the party party and arousing the other to effective work, are hardly ever realized.

THERE is no political bossism worse than that exercised by Central Committees of the kind now controlling the Democratic situations in the Eighth and Ninth Congressional Districts. They are hotbeds of corruption and centers of outrageous dictation and disreputable schemes to control the party. They must be downed by the party will face inevitable defeat at the polls.

Prof. Bryce, the distinguished English publicist, says that while he is a free trader, he does not believe that "free trade is best under all circumstances." If a free trader may thus modify his doctrine without forfeiting his consistency, surely a protestant may do likewise, on the other hand, and still remain true to the Republican party.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM.
A University Night.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
Allow the writer to make a suggestion through your journal to the directors of the Exposition. Let us have Sept. 30 as University day and night. The Washington as well as St. Louis University would, I feel sure, do their share toward success. Besides these institutions should be placed more thoroughly before the intelligent public's notice. Knowing you to be ever ready in the interest of the city's institutions and desirous of aiding in the growth and advancement of the same.

THE DUST AGAIN.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
As you are the originators of the free sprinkling, we think we have a right to complain to you. Our street was not sprinkled once to-day, and the clouds of dust on the avenue was something almost unbearable. Besides, thousands of dollars of merchandise ruined by it. We are willing to pay for sprinkling, but we are not willing to pay for working to avert this awful dust. We have all the merchants to testify to the above. Please give this notice through your columns and oblige. Yours truly,

A MOST DARING ROBBERY

A BAND OF BURGULARS ENTER A FARMER'S HOUSE AND FIRE ON HIM.

James Hunter, a Negro, now at the City Hospital with a bullet in his leg, supposed to be one of the men who made a raid on Henry Goodson's Place Saturday night—How He Was Captured.

James Hunter, a negro, was arrested in the early hours of yesterday morning by Police Officer Thomas O'Brien on Broadway and Fillmore street. The fellow was suffering from the effects of a severe gunshot wound in the joint of the right leg. The wound was fresh and blood was flowing copiously. Officer O'Brien called the patrol wagon and the negro was placed in a chair and taken to the police station and locked up on a scaffold. He informed the officer and Police Sergeant John Dugay that he was shot by a man whom he beat in a game of craps at Foley's. When asked how he reached St. Louis he said that he beat his way up on a freight train. Upon inquiring at the railroad depot, it was learned that there had not been a freight train passed through to the city since 11 o'clock last Saturday night, which was due to the wreck near Meramec. When Capt. Boyd arrived at the police station yesterday morning he saw that the man was suffering and had him removed to the Chief's office, and from there he was taken to the City Hospital.

White Hunter was at the depot in care of an officer waiting for a train. Mr. Harry Goodson, one of the most prominent farmers of St. Louis County, rushed down to the depot; looked at the negro and asked the officer what all the man. He was told Hunter's story and then went away without saying anything. The officer then called the negro, who afterwards was shown, harbored very strong suspicions that the man was one of a gang who attempted to burglarize his house, and whom he had shot.

STORY OF THE ROBBERY.

The story of the robbery is as follows: Shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday morning a dog barked at the front door of the home of Goodson homestead on the Weber road. Goodson heard the robbers effect their entrance into the house through the parlor window. Seeing a revolver he ran out into the hall, but he had no sooner done so when the robbers opened fire on him. Strange to say, the bullet passed through the door and had no effect. The hallway was very dark, saw the gray streak of light of his early morning sailing through the front door that the robbers had entered. Mr. Goodson's aged mother, hearing the shots, jumped out of bed and started to run through the hall but was overtaken by the robbers, one of the robbers firing at her. The bullet passed in front of her and penetrated the wall, failing in the foot of the bed. She ran to the door to look her door and in the meantime jumped into her own room.

He saw one man rush for the front door and another for the back door. He ran out and fired a shot at the fleeing form. The man gave a yell and fell to the ground. Goodson was about to fire again, but was prevented by the other who had run back and ran through the trees on the lawn in front of his residence. The robbers then escaped.

Goodson now says he is positive that the man who fired the shot whom he shot, although he had his doubts at first and for that reason said nothing. The robbers also stole two saddle horses from Louis Hoffman, a neighbor of the Goodsons. The robbery is said to be the most daring and desperate ever committed in the city. The man who fired the gun is the son of Mr. Goodson, who says that there were fully a half dozen men implicated in the affair. The horses were stolen by the men and were afterwards sold. The horses had been taken off the halter missing. When Hunter was forwarded to the Chief's office this affair was not known. Hunter is now confined in the City Hospital.

CHALLENGER'S TERRIBLE VOYAGE. Half the Crew Washed Overboard and the Vessel Crippled.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Capt. Collier of the steamship Normandie, which landed her passengers 40 days, reports that yesterday about 2:30 p. m., when about 250 miles east of Sandy Hook she sighted the three-masted American ship Challenger, bound from West Hartlepool to this port. Danger signals were streaming from every available point on the Challenger's boards. She was damaged and her sails torn to ribbons. The captain of the Normandie, despite a terrible gale that was still blowing, sent a boat and crew to the assistance of the Challenger. The frail craft was tossed up and down like a corkscrew in the rough sea and the return journey was equally as dangerous. Their report was horrifying. The Challenger had reported that during a terrific hurricane on Sept. 12, twelve of his crew had been washed overboard and were lost. The remainder were ill to work the ship. In addition to the twelve men killed, four of the crew, including their captain and two mates, had been washed overboard to men to work the ship. The Challenger was in a terribly crippled and damaged condition. Her masts, yards, fore and main topgallant mast, bowsprit, headgear had standing rigging were gone and she was listing to port. The crew were all but exhausted and were unable to work the ship. Officer Marshall offered medical assistance and food, but the captain of the Challenger declined, saying all they wanted was for the crew to be taken to the port. The owners and all the same upon their arrival in this city. Speaking of the affair this morning, third officer Mariani of the Normandie said:

"The vessel was in horrible shape and her dismantled condition attracted my attention, being on the relief boat. When I went to her in the relief boat, the Captain after telling me his mishap, declined aid. I offered him every assistance, even to take him to the port. Our two longer carried our twenty-two men, crew, officers and cooks. She is valued at $50,000 and I will stand the cost for her repair. She was signified about 20 miles out at sea, and will be brought into this port.

WHAT IS THE CAUSE OF BEAUTY?

Will the Human Race Become Hideous as It Advances?

From the London Spectator.

Beauty is a result of circumstances, such as personal freedom and mode of life and of constitutional diet, not of intelligence, and still less of the acquisition of knowledge, which latter can only benefit the individual, whose features are fixed past serious change before study is even begun. A man or a woman inherits his or her face, and mental habitude, though it may greatly affect its meaning, can no more alter its shape than asiduous training can affect a man's mind.

One by one he extricated them from their little glass receptacles and munched away with evident relish. Roswell had not heard him, and still he continued to ring the bell. The bell vanished down the cat's throat. When forty-three had faded from view "Doc" stopped eating and when his host interrupted him again he got out for an after-dinner nap on top of the new case.

Having accidentally solved the mystery of the bell, he resolved to pay a visit to the black cat in the tribe of Nyassaland, a semi-savagely wild race in Asia, a tribe of cannibals, missionaries, and savages.

It was late at night, and the store was quiet. It was not due for an hour, and Roswell was dropping off to sleep when he happened to look up and caught a glimpse of "Doc," a big cat that lives in the pharmacy. It was at lunch and was now in the act of devouring a piece of ham.

GOUNOD'S AMERICAN TOUR.

Mr. E. Monc sees the Composer for Alleged Breach of Contract.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Alfred Godchaux of this city is considerably exercised over the reports from the other side to the effect that M. Gounod, the celebrated musician and composer, has been sued for a breach of contract made by him for a concert tour in this country. The amount claimed from M. Gounod is said to be 100,000 francs, and it is further alleged that the contract included a clause which made it necessary for Gounod's manager to bring his wife and family along with the great master. Miss Godchaux says that the contract referred to was made with M. Gounod himself and Mr. F. Monc, who was formerly a partner of the composer in his atrial and musical ventures. He exhibited the contract signed by M. Gounod, M. Monc and himself to bear the date of July 2, 1886, and states it is a copy of the original, and was paid by either party failing to carry out its provisions.

Monc emphatically denies the contract on which Monc bases his claim against M. Gounod, "The fact is that Monc and myself dissolved partnership on July 2, 1886, and it is to pay the salaries of the company that we were running. Monc never hired a hall or made a date here in anticipation of any tour to be made in the states, and the contract referred to by this moment if Gounod should offer to come over here Monc would be in a very embarrassing position, as he would not have a cent left when he arrived in this country. The matter is as little as it is better than a blackmail scheme, and I am afraid that M. Gounod or his friends may think that I am acting with Monc in this matter, though I have nothing to do with the business and make no claim against M. Gounod. It is a fact that Monc's suit does not appear directly in the action against Gounod, but it is undoubtedly his claim which is being prosecuted. The plan is to sue Gounod for a large sum of money, and to be anxious to come with Gounod. I am aware that her name has often been coupled with mine, and I am sorry that it is so, but it is to their relations. It is possible that her husband may be joined with Monc in this suit against Gounod. It has been further claimed that Gounod is to be sued for damages on account of claims against him by Mrs. Georgiana Weldon, an English woman. I know positively that that is not true, and that Gounod stands in no fear in that direction.

LAYING CORNER STONES.

Impressive Services at Three New Churches in Course of Erection.

The Grand Lodge of Missouri, A. F. and A. M., had charge of the corner stone laying ceremony at the corner of Chestnut street and Leddingwell avenue yesterday afternoon. The Church is for the African Methodist Episcopal body and will be a very fine building. Over seven hundred Masons marched from the old St. Paul's A. M. E. Church on Eleventh street and Franklin avenue to the site of the new building. The Knights of Pythias, Rev. W. W. and Son of the Knights being in the ranks. Rev. Moses Dixon, Rev. R. H. Cotten and Mr. F. A. Burrell took part in the stone laying. It was explained that the church would cost $45,000.

The corner stone of the new Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church was laid yesterday afternoon at the corner of St. Louis and Garrick avenues. St. Louis and Garrick avenues. C. F. Obermyer delivered a very appropriate sermon and Rev. F. W. A. Burrell took part in the laying of the corner stone. The usual box contained quite a collection of literature, including several Latin and Greek books.

The corner stone of the Union Congregational Church at 1428 North Teas street was to have been laid yesterday, and although the ceremony was to be held at 10 a. m., the ground around the ceremonies were gone through. Rev. E. A. Adams of Chicago, and Geo. C. Adams, pastor of Compton Hill Church, delivered appropriate sermons. The ceremony was followed with some remarks on city mission work. Rev. Dana W. Bartlett also spoke and a box of literature was given to the church. The corner stone will be laid on some future occasion.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that we should be able to taste the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of M. Price is one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

ROBERT HIS SISTER.

Charles Bartholomew Makes a Good Start Towards the Penitentiary.

Judge Cady fined Charles Bartholomew $100 and costs in the First District Police Court this morning and will send the defendant to the House of Refuge. Bartholomew is only 15 years old but seems to have started early on the road to ruin. Two weeks ago he stole $5 from his sister, Mrs. Catherine Clement, and purchased a cheap revolver. Yesterday evening he appeared at the women's home with his sister and exhibited the weapon. Mrs. Clement tried to take it from him. The boy pointed the gun at his sister's head, and, holding it in his jacket, proceeded to beat her to his heart's content. Later in the evening Bartholomew was arrested and remanded to the House of Refuge. It appears from the statement of his relatives, to be perfectly incorrigible.

TWO JACK DEMPSEYS.

THE NONFARELL AGREES TO FIGHT FIVE SIMMONS AT NEW ORLEANS.

And California Jack Dempsey Knocks Out Jack Davis in Two Rounds—The Browns Win Two Games at Toledo and the Louisville Suffer Defeat at Columbus—General Sporting News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey Saturday night received an offer from a New Orleans sporting man on behalf of a responsible club in that city for a fight between the 'Nonpareil' and 'Bob Fitzsimmons,' the Australian, which he has decided to accept. The club, which is believed to be the Columbia Athletic Club, offered to hang up a $7,000 purse. Dempsey's manager yesterday wired the New Orleans man that Dempsey would accept the terms providing he would guarantee that the offer was genuine.

California Dempsey's Victory.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 15.—Jack Dempsey of California and Jack Davis of Red Mountain fought with three and a half rounds given Saturday night for a purse of $500. It promised to be an important fight, but after the first three-minute round it was apparent that Dempsey had an easy job of it. The Browns were the better fighters, but started which only lasted a few seconds, when Davis was knocked down, falling on his face. He was unable to rise and the fight was declared a foul.

(Note.—The Dempsey referred to in the above Dispatch is not the champion middle-weight and is not relative. He is a California fighter and has figured in several fights.)

The North End Regatta.

The annual autumn regatta yesterday afternoon of the North End Rowing Club at Bissell's Point was a great success and was witnessed by thousands of people from all parts of the city.

The day was an excellent one for the rowing, the water was a little rough and a slight breeze was blowing. The first race was the double scull race for two gold medals, the course being from the Merchant's Bridge, three-quarters of a mile north. The following races were the single scull, which only lasted a few seconds, when Davis was knocked down, falling on his face. He was unable to rise and the fight was declared a foul.

The next race was the single scull race over the same course, and after the gold medal. The only race that was won was started by F. E. Smith and H. A. Biermann, W. M. Smith and L. W. Zinser, C. J. Blankenmeier and J. H. Doughty, B. J. Israel and Al Wink. The winner was Geo. L. Von Beck, Wm. Cutler and A. Jones. The double scull race finished in the above order. Time 150.4s.

The affair in general proved a success and the races the prizes were awarded to the winners by the President, Mr. J. H. Gandy.

The following were the officers for the day: Referee, C. M. Steiner; Vice, L. L. Steiner; Secretary, J. C. Steiner; Judges, L. C. Lenck, M. W. H. Hillegeist and C. J. Ernst.

Badbourn as a Pitcher.

"I know John Reilly to a Cincinnati reporter, " said

Long John Reilly to a Cincinnati reporter, "but he is yet one of the greatest pitchers in America. You know what makes him a pitcher? No, you don't. Well, I'll tell you. He has got to go to practice, and it is up to him to keep his strength ready to let it out whenever he wants to. He knows what he must do to keep up with the times.

When we were in Cincinnati we went to the Brotherton grounds. There, in a long room, with the windows on the side, I found Badbourn. He was in a big sweater which he had over his life. He had practiced two long hours and never let up until he could put out his own hand. He had fifteen balls across the plate fifteen times in succession. That afternoon he went against the Chicagoans. He had an elegant command of his curve ball, down and over, and the ball was a twister. He gave me the horrors to look at him. I won't mention any names, but you know what the stiff would do? He would have to throw it in the game. The report rigged up like Harry Hall or some other dude. He would find out if he had to pitch or was an extra man. If he was good, what do you think he was? The gall to do? No matter who was playing and if the game meant the championship to us, he would try to be in the game at all costs. Then he would be better down the street. He was too busy mashing. He wouldn't let us see the team take the field, but he did it down on Fourth street and give the ladies a treat by showing off his yellow shoes, his speckled vest and his big spark. The club made a good turn when it lost him."

A Great Field.

"The Buffalo Brotherton team has one great out-fielder," said Manager Loftus to a Cincinnati Enquirer reporter; "I mean Little Hoy, the mute. He is a player after my own heart. I met him at the time I was in New York. When I like a man, he is in his earnestness. He is one of the hardest workers I ever saw. We sat in front of the hotel tables, we were talking, and the time was in writing questions, asking me what I would do in certain emergencies. He wanted to get all the points in the play. He is a player of the first class, and he is bound to it. I wish every one of my men were like him. He doesn't need a chart to find his way around the bases. There are many players who will be told what they must do. They have no head of their own, and never have them in thinking. Gives me the quick-acting player, one who sees an opening the moment it is made, and will not notice any other. That's all I want—that is, get one base and then wait until some one bats them to the next—poor men for a team to have. The men I have are the ones who high-spirited men should not use their heads in play. They are paid money to have some brains, if not, they are not fit to play. They are well-headed airds and ask questions like Hoy does. He would be better off."

The Louisville Meeting.
